

Graduate Scholarship Information

The scholarships listed here and on the following pages are by no means an exhaustive list, hundreds are granted each academic year to first time and continuing college students. In fact, donated funds for numerous scholarships are returned yearly due to the lack of applications received. Don't let that free money get away.

The internet is a great place to begin your search for scholarships. In addition, be sure to check with your parents or your place of employment, your church, local foundations, civic groups, community organizations and high school guidance counselors for information on scholarships available.
